

¡No es broma! ¡Has sido seleccionado!

Por estar conectado el: 06 de 07 del 2009 a las 10:17 de la mañana
Has sido seleccionado como posible ganador de un Audi A3 - el color lo eliges tú
Si has llegado a tiempo, haz click aquí: www.ganador-elegido.es

July 6, 2009
INDIA
National Politics
Business
Sports
Sci-Tech
Entertainment
Travel
Health
Religion
Art - Culture
Diaspora
Education
INTERNATIONAL
Pakistan
Rest of South Asia
Asia
Americas
Europe
Australasia
Gulf-Middle East
Africa
World

Home > Americas

 E-mail  Print

Sexist jokes encourage violence against women

Posted: 3:49p.m IST, July 4, 2009

London, July 4 (IANS) Sexist jokes induce an attitude that equates violence against women with a macho image, according to a recent study.

Scientists at the University of Granada in Spain sent questionnaires to a group of 109 students aged between 18 and 26.

They showed them two series of jokes, one of them sexist where women were denigrated, and another one with jokes without any kind of sexist content.

The researchers then proposed to them several scenes with different cases of battering against women, from minor to serious attacks, to ask them how they would react in these kind of situations.

The study showed that those who had listened to sexist jokes were much more tolerant to female battering than those who had not.

However, the researchers warned that those individuals affected by sexist humour showed a previous tendency to tolerate violence against women, said a Granada release.

Some of the perceptions of men's sexist attitudes were: 'Deep down, feminists intend women to be more powerful than men', 'most of the women do not fully appreciate what men do for them' or 'there are many women who make sexual insinuations to men and later they reject their advances just to make fun of them'.

These findings are slated for publication in the US Journal of Interpersonal Violence.

 E-mail  Print

Advertisement

